*It took a storm to strip you bare of leaves,
To shake the last bright rags of autumn free;
To make you stand as stark as one who grieves
For some fair season that has ceased to be.
It took the winter and the hand of pain
To clothe you in serenity and peace.
Beyond the transient now you shall remain,
Though time shall grant you but a brief release.*

*Who knew in summer that these silver lines
Now lifted up against a hollow sky
Lay hidden in your riches, clean and bare?
Who sees in all things living how there shines
Beauty of structure, guarded from the eye
With all the secret passion of a prayer?*

Much Ado About Omnibus Zones At Carmel City Council Meeting; Again! The Dolores Street Squeeze

Joe Oliveira's taxi and bus office at the corner of Sixth and Dolores streets loomed large on the horizon of the Carmel City Council at its regular meeting Wednesday night, when a letter was received from Janet Prentiss and Marian D. Shand requesting that Joe's bus and taxi zone in front of their property be discontinued, as the traffic-block created by the parking of the Carmel Valley bus there has resulted in causing them to lose several opportunities to lease the property. They own the building adjacent to Joe's taxi office on the south side of Sixth street east of Dolores, which was once the dwelling of Perry Newberry.

They suggested that he utilize his recently re-zoned position at Sixth and Junipero instead.

Several months ago Joe Oliveira was granted re-zoning for a stage-depot to be operated at Sixth and Junipero streets for the purpose of relieving the traffic congestion at Sixth and Dolores.

A letter was simultaneously received from Joe Oliveira and the Bay Rapid Transit company requesting that the bus zone at the southwest corner of Dolores and Sixth street as a stop for Monterey-Carmel buses be discontinued and transferred to the southeast corner (the location of the Shand-Prentiss property) 50 feet east of Dolores, where the Carmel Valley bus stops now. He suggested this would relieve the traffic block at Dolores and 6th, because the bus would no longer have to turn on Dolores street to make its local loop run.

In addition, he submitted plans and requested permission to make an addition to his present taxi office on the southeast corner for the purpose of building rest rooms.

The matter was taken under advisement by the City Council for further study, as were all other questions pertaining to the bus and taxi office situation.

Another important matter was the submission to the City Council of definite plans and specifications for a new police department building to be situated on city property at the southwest corner of Mission and Seventh. Plans were accepted, and a resolution passed to advertise for bids from building contractors.

Chief of Police Roy C. Fratres introduced a suggestion regarding the Dolores street traffic jam requesting that two loading zones be established between Ocean and Seventh streets, one on the west side and the other on the east side of the street. They would be 44 feet in length. The council asked the people interested to write in their suggestions as to where they think the loading zones should be located.

Building plans were approved and permits authorized for Albert O. Lamascus, who intends to build a five unit apartment building at Dolores and Third, Maude Stewart for an addition to her shop on San Carlos, LeMon and Dragoo for remodeling the front of a store on Ocean Avenue next to Blewett's for use of a candy store called Hansel and Gretel, Jean Ricketts of McDonald's Dairy for the addition of a garage and storerooms on San Carlos street, and John Petty for the construction of a warehouse near Junipero and Third streets.

In relation to trees, permission was granted Herbert Heron and Colonel George W. Allin to remove an acacia and a pine tree respectively. But Mrs. Berger's pine tree removal application was denied, on grounds that it was not "dead" as she had claimed. The La Ribera Hotel wants to remove two cypress trees which they say obstruct the view of their sign, but this matter was referred to the council as a committee for inspection to be decided upon at the next meeting.

Miss Louise Clark wrote a letter suggesting that the toll charge on telephone service between Carmel and Monterey be removed and Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. McCandless requested permission to "continue trespass" on city property until such time as street improvement might get under way, as they had innocently and unwittingly built their fence and lawn on city property. Permission was granted. The toll charge question was taken under consideration. The council voted that their option to buy the

Maj. Gen. Lauer Ready For The Battle Of Carmel

One of the fightingest men in the Army, Major General Walter E. Lauer, has returned to Carmel and has gone into action again in the battle for a place to live, where he and Mrs. Lauer can sit down in peace for a while.

Major General Lauer has been retired from the army for wounds received in the Battle of the Bulge and has come back to make his home in the town he left in '43 when he and Mrs. Lauer lived in Carmel Woods, Serra and Camino Del Monte.

Major General Lauer left Fort Ord as chief of staff with rank of Colonel in the Third Infantry Division and went as fast as he could to North Africa, where he participated in the landing at Casablanca. After this campaign he returned to the United States and was promoted to Brigadier General of the 93rd Infantry Division and then to Major General commanding the 99th Division, which became famous as "The Battle Babies" in the Battle of the Bulge, that terrific campaign in Ardennes. In December '44 Major General Lauer was with the first division across the Rhine in the great battle of Renagen bridgehead. He served with the First and Third Armies in the E. T. O. with eight months of continued fighting. Said the reporter to the Major General—"Had Enough?"—Sarah Farrar.

Expect Business Pickup In Jan. Says Jackson Back From Eastern Convention

Prospects are bright for business in general and for the real estate brokers in particular, says Corum Jackson, vice-president of the ninth district of California Real Estate Association, just back from a month in the east, where he attended the Real Estate convention at Atlantic City, visited in Virginia "about the time the coal strike started" and spent some time in New York and Boston.

Protesting that he went east to enjoy himself and not to make a cross-country survey of business and political conditions, Jackson admitted, after a little prodding, that he couldn't help noticing what was "plain as the nose on your face."

Consensus of opinion of the realtors at the convention is that though real estate prices won't hold after building materials are released, there will be a big turn over, so big that business will be good for "at least five years."

The realtors were "100 percent for a 100 percent clear out of O. P. A. They want all controls removed from rents—everything." They believe that if prices are allowed to find their natural level, everybody will be benefitted. In line with this thinking is their opposition to the revival of the W. E. T. bill, which would put further control on building and public housing. "They want building and housing in the hands of private enter-

Dr. Orley See Speaker For Symphony Assn.

Dr. Orley See, conductor of the Oakland Symphony Concert, will be the main speaker at the reception to be given Sunday afternoon in the Music Room at Carmel High School on December 15, at 3 p. m.

At this time work will start on organizing the Regional Symphony Association for the Monterey County area.

Hal Garrott has agreed to be master of ceremonies.

Among those receiving will be: Mayor and Mrs. Fred Godwin, Mrs. Zena Potter, recently returned from Washington, D. C.; Franklin Dixon, president of the Carmel Music Society; Mrs. Elmarie Dyke, president of the Community Concert Association; Eben Whittlesey, president of the Musical Art Club; Mrs. R. R. Wallace of Pebble Beach; Leo Harris, Carmel superintendent of schools, and others.

Before plans for the organization of the association are complete the symphony will hold a first rehearsal on January 6 at 8:00 p. m. in the auditorium of the Carmel High School. Musicians interested in participating are requested to write Leon Minear, who will conduct the rehearsals, at box 1373, Carmel.

Bond Committee Personnel Chosen By Chairmen

The various committees for the school bond election are outlining their plans and getting under way this week.

Chairmen of the committees announce members as follows:

Newspaper publicity, Mrs. Millard Klein, chairman, Mrs. Howard Clark, Mrs. Jack Martin, Zenas Potter, E. A. H. Watson, Lloyd Miller, Frederick Bechdolt. In addition, several nationally known Carmel authors will write feature articles from time to time.

School publicity, Arthur Hull, chairman, Mesdames Katherine French, Sylvia Jordan, Evelyn Hilbrand, Donald Craig, Ann Uzzell, Edna C. Lockwood, Leon Minear, Dorothy R. Skelley, Frances C. Johnson, Miss Jeanne Staffebach, Lloyd Miller.

Speakers' bureau, L. A. Williams, chairman, Rev. James E. Crowther, J. O. Handley, Rev. A. B. Seccombe, Zenas Potter, C. W. Allaire.

Fact finding, Peter Mawdsley, chairman, P. A. McCreery, Fred Godwin, Gunnar Norberg.

Mrs. Helen Clark Cranston, chairman of the Get Out the Vote Committee, is organizing a large committee and will give out the names at a later date.

GETTING AROUND THE PENINSULA

By ROSALIND SHARPE

Sam Colburn, Carmel artist, dropped in at the Gump Galleries in San Francisco the other day to see the L'Ecole de Paris show, which is the first post-war exhibition of contemporary Parisian painters. To his surprise, there wasn't a single non-objective, abstract, cubist or surrealist pointing in the entire show.

The work of seventeen French painters who belong to the generation succeeding the Braque, Picasso, Redon, Chagall group, the names burst upon us with an unfamiliar ring—Serveau, Tereckhovitch, Andre Marchand, Yves Alix, Jules Tristan, J. J. Phillipin, Jean Dufy, etc. Dufy alone links us with the pre-war art world in that he is the brother of Roaul Dufy.

According to Sam, the show includes landscapes, still-lives, and some figure-work, and "the show as a whole is rather calm, with no influence of the war."

"While the paintings are not academic in the sense of being literal interpretations," he said, "the trend is a return to naturalism. The new group has attempted to use some of the discoveries of the abstract and non-objective painters, but they are using them in the presentation of more recognizable form. The subject matter is derived from a recognizable source."

Ending tomorrow, the show has been travelling all over the United States, and is another startling symptom of the change of heart in Paris.

People who were happy because military personnel were moving out of the area will probably be sorry to hear that Fort Ord is one of seven army camps in the United States selected by the War Department to become a permanent Replacement Training Center under the jurisdiction of the Army Ground Forces. This means that there will be an influx of married officers and enlisted men who will be in urgent need of housing for their wives and children, and post authorities hope that local citizens and business will co-operate as much as possible in aiding them to find adequate quarters.

Businessmen, on the other hand, depressed at the failure of the sardine industry this year, will be happy to know that the RTC at Fort Ord, which will include approximately 9,000 officers, cadre and trainees, will bring an estimated pay roll of two million dollars to the peninsula area, and much of this income will inevitably drift into the coffers of Monterey, Carmel, Pacific Grove and Salinas.

Units from Fort Bliss, Texas, and Fort Knox, Kentucky, have already arrived at Fort Ord, and hundreds of other troops are scheduled to move here after December 22.

This means that the military personnel is here to stay. They will become a permanent part of the

HOLIDAY SCHEDULE FOR POST OFFICE

The Carmel Post Office will stay open until 5 p. m. Saturday afternoons until Christmas, starting this Saturday, December 7.

Due to the coal strike domestic parcels will be limited to 5 pounds and there will be no international packages accepted for mailing. Parcels may be sent to the Armed Forces only on request of overseas personnel.

B. A. Annual Dinner

The annual dinner meeting of the Carmel Business Association will be held Thursday evening, December 12, at American Legion Hall, when announcement will be made of the outcome of the elections that have been going on through the mail for ten members of the executive committee. The winning ten will chose from among their number a president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer.

The twenty on whom the association members ballotted this week for the final ten are: Helen Carter, Charles Childers, S. A. Coleman, Helen Dean, George Fortier, Alfred Fry, Harrison Godwin, J. O. Handley, Corum Jackson, Wesley Kergan, Edward Kuster, Ernest Morehouse, Walter Nelsen, Barbara Norberg, Mark Raggett, Barnet Segal, Robert Spencer, Niel Van Bibber, Lloyd Weer and Eben Whittlesey.

Dinner Before Dance

Mary Agnes Fortier was hostess at a dinner party given last week before Jackie Work's dance. Tables for the sixteen guests were arranged before an open fire, decorated with redwood greens, and lit by red candles. Young people who were grouped around the tables were Sue Moore, Bette Dills, Lela Dills, Jackie Work, Betty Austin, Bobby Henningson, Kathleen Flood of Kodiak, Alaska, Emile Passalalgue, Sandy Hook, Butch Whitman, Bill Gargiulo, Ty Hook, Bob Pence, Mike Dills and Bill Moore.

Dr. Williams Goes East

Dr. Russell Williams of Carmel Highlands, who has gone east where he will enroll for the Menninger Clinic in Topeka, Kansas, has visited his friends, Dan and Lillith James who are at present in Kansas City. Dan James' home is in Carmel Highlands where his mother, Mrs. Dan James, lives. The popular musical, Bloomer Girl, which has been touring the country, is Mr. James' latest opus. Burns Mantle wrote of his Winter Soldiers, which was produced privately in New York, that it was the best war play that had been written. Dr. Williams expects to go further east and take work at Johns Hopkins and at Columbia University in New York.

Golden Wedding Anniversary

Tonight, the Hicks Clan will gather at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hicks to celebrate their Golden Wedding, December 6, 1896, at Penryn, Placer County, Carl Hicks and Bessie Parker were married at the home of the bride's parents, who had come to California from Iowa. Bessie and Carl went from Penryn to Colfax, where a little home was all furnished and waiting for them. Mr. and Mrs. Hicks have lived in Sonora, Santa Rosa, San Mateo and San Francisco. They left the city after the earthquake, when the Hicks family scattered, some of them coming to Carmel, where they have been ever since, and now joined by the Carl Hicks. Carl Hicks has been a collector of antiques and their home on Lincoln Avenue is filled with treasures, which made it an ideal setting for a golden wedding celebration. The Hicks family are pioneers who came to California in the covered wagon period, settling in Placer County. The Carmel branch of the family were all present to offer congratulations for what Carl Hicks said had been "a busy and a good life." Those present were Mr. Ralph Hicks and sister, Mrs. L. B. Morton, Mr. and Mrs. George Mullnix, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morton, Mr. and Mrs. George Schweninger, Miss Helen Mullnix and John and Anne Hicks.

Student Concert

Following the custom of several years past, the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of the Wayfarer on Tuesday afternoon enjoyed a program of Christmas music given by groups of students of the high school and of Sunset school under the direction of Mr. John Farr and Miss Jean Stanbridge respectively, the program outlined in last week's Pine Cone. The girls' glee club first sang Carmel High, words and music written by one of their number, Barbara Stoney, followed by the Christmas music. The Sunset groups gave the middle part of the program, with high school boys and then the girls' glee club in concluding numbers.

A brief business session conducted by Mrs. Leo Harris opened the meeting, with devotions led by Mrs. Ramsey Benson. A Christmas tea with the South Circle and Dr. Olive Swezy, as hostesses, was announced for Tuesday, Dec. 17, at two o'clock in the social room of the church. The North Circle and especially the new comers in the congregation are invited as guests. Mrs. Blanchard Steeves reported on funds raised by the World Friendship Circle in voluntary contributions for support of a girl in China.

Small Fry

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Fry have a brand new baby boy, named Timothy Voorhis, born December 2, at the Peninsula Community Hospital. Alfred Fry is manager of the La Playa Hotel, but the family live on Serra Avenue. Mr. Fry served in the Army for four years during the war. Mrs. Fry was Marie Voorhis of Maywood, New Jersey, and they have a small daughter Kathleen, aged 5.

Doud-Archer News

Social life in Carmel this week revolved around affairs that concern the wedding of Peggy Doud and Shreve M. Archer that will take place Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Church of the Wayfarer, followed by a reception at Del Monte Lodge. Friends and relatives of the young people are arriving from east, west, north and south. Mr. and Mrs. Shreve M.

Archer Sr. and their party arrived last night in a private car from St. Paul, in which they made a tour of the Northwest before arriving in Carmel.

On their arrival they were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. James Doud and they will be at Del Monte Lodge for five days. Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Archer Sr. were the four bridesmaids, sisters of the groom, Mrs. Helen Archer Moles, Mrs. James Addison Thomas, Mrs. Edgar Uihlein Jr., and Mrs. Russell Winters, their husbands, and Mr. and Mrs. David Anderson.

After the rehearsal for the wedding Friday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Archer Sr. are giving a formal dinner at the Lodge for members of the wedding party and members of the families.

Peggy and Shreve were entertained at a luncheon Monday, given by Mrs. Rodney Snow, and last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Jay Clancy gave a dinner in their honor.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cooper Doud will entertain the bridal party at the Lodge Saturday night following the reception, and at another table Mrs. Florence Sharon Brown, grandmother of the bride, will give a dinner for all the visiting relatives.

Mrs. Robert Sharon of San Francisco and New York, great aunt of the bride, will be at the La Playa as the guest of Mrs. Florence Brown, who will be at the hotel until she leaves for Chicago to visit her daughter, Willette (Mrs. Robert Fitch.)

Others arriving for the wedding are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ashbrook, old family friends from Beverly Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Norris and sons, Westrik and Sharon, who come from Piedmont and will occupy Mrs. Brown's house while here.

William B. Brown, son of Florence Brown, arrives Friday from Beverly Hills. Mrs. John B. Geisen of San Francisco, will be the guest of the Junior Geisens, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Farr and their two children, Sammy and Francesca of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Deverich of Beverly Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Hurford Sharon, great aunt and uncle of the bride, and their son, William, who live in Piedmont, have arrived, and Mrs. Muriel Brown and daughter, Elizabeth, who is to be a flower girl, join the clan today, coming down from San Francisco.

Tea At Art Gallery

Tea at the Art Gallery Sunday afternoon between 4 and 6 will not be in honor of any particular artist but a friendly gathering of painters, writers, and those interested in various arts. There is a new general show at the gallery.

Legion Auxiliary

Carmel Unit 512 of the American Legion Auxiliary will meet Tuesday, December 10, at 8 p. m. at the Legion Hall. There will be initiation exercises, and following the business meeting there will be a Christmas party. Refreshments will be served.

Jean Potter Married

Jean Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zenas L. Potter of Carmel was married at the American Church in Paris, France, on November 27, to Anatole Chelnov.

Members of the bride's family who were in Paris at the time of the wedding were Jean's aunt and cousin, Mrs. Margaret Clark Williams and Miss Anne Williams, and Assistant Secretary of State William Benton, also her cousin, and Mrs. Benton, who were in Paris for the international meeting on cultural relations.

Mr. Chelnov is an American citizen, of White Russian descent. His father, mother and brothers and sisters all were carried off by the influenza epidemic that swept Russia after the first World War, and he was brought up by his grandmother, going to school in Belgium and to the University of Paris. He came to America in the mid-thirties, where he followed his father's profession as an architect. The war, however, took him to Alaska, where he served the Army as interpreter at Fairbanks, where the United States turned over to Russian pilots the great number of planes that helped them win critical battles of the war. It was here that Jean and Anatole met.

Later Mr. Chelnov served as interpreter at the San Francisco conference. The war over, he decided to seek his future in international aviation and is now traffic representative for the American Airlines in Berlin. Later, if the lines are extended into Russia, he expects to be transferred there.

Like her mother, Jean is a nationally known writer; but whereas her mother writes whimsical stories for children, Jean concentrates on more serious literature. She is the author of Alaska Under Arms and her writings appear regularly in the leading national magazines. The current issue of Coronet magazine contains an article by her in the Great Living Americans series, devoted to Dr. Gabrielson, wild life leader. Her forthcoming book, The Flying North, which will be in the bookstores in the very near future, is being recommended by the Book-of-the-Month Club.

For some months Mr. and Mrs. Chelnov will live in Berlin.

Chess Club

The Carmel Chess Club held its opening meeting of the winter season last Monday night in Room 11 at the Sunset School. A good attendance was reported. The Club will meet every Monday at 7:30 p. m. and anyone interested in chess is cordially invited to attend these sessions, either as participants or onlookers, according to Mr. Thomas Work, Jr., president of the Carmel Chess Club and one of the topflight players of the Monterey Peninsula.

Another Small Fry

Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Fry came all the way from Indiana so that Ruth Marion Lynn Fry, who was born last Friday, November 29, could be a Native Daughter of California. Perhaps too, Mrs. Ruth Marion McElroy, the maternal grandmother, had something to do with it, for three months ago the young Frys came here to visit her. The baby was born at the Monterey Hospital. Ann Fry, the mother, graduated from Carmel High in the class of '44. Her maternal grandfather was that grand old actor, George Marion. Mr. Fry, the father, was in the army nearly four years and came out a Lieutenant. He is the son of Paul P. Fry of Linton, Indiana.

Anne Campbell

Miss Anne Bruce Campbell, who had been in failing health for a long time, died Monday, December 2, at a local rest home. A native of Providence, Rhode Island, she came to Carmel five years ago to make her home with her niece, Miss Amy Campbell, at Casanova and Ninth streets. She was 91 years old.

She leaves, in addition to her niece, Miss Amy Campbell of Carmel, three other nieces and nephews: Alan Campbell of Carmel, and Miss Elsa Campbell and Hilary Campbell who make their homes in the east.

Private funeral services were held Tuesday, December 3, at the Paul Mortuary in Pacific Grove, followed by cremation at Cypress Lawn.

Music Lovers Looking Forward To Concert Tues.

Carmel music lovers are eagerly awaiting the appearance of the famous Brazilian pianist, Gulomar Novaes at Sunset auditorium, December 10, at 8:15 p. m. As a child of seven she played her first concert in Sao Joao Vista, her home town, and a little later gave a series of concerts throughout the state. The government of Brazil was so convinced of her great talent that it sent her to the Conservatoire in Paris, to which she was admitted with top honors from 388 contestants. At sixteen she had completed her study in Paris and coaching with the famous Polish composer-pianist, Stojowski, began her triumphant tours in Europe and later in the United States.

The New York Times hailed her as "the Paderewski of the Pampas," and "the only legitimate successor of the immortal Carreno." Her playing is characterized by brilliance, tenderness, and delicacy.

As magnificent pianist, exemplary wife and mother, and passionate patriot, she is loved and admired in her own country. Over the entrance to the Municipal Theatre, in Rio de Janeiro is a bronze plaque engraved, "In this theatre Gulomar Novaes played."

This will be the second of this season's concerts sponsored by the Carmel Music Society.

Time Of Your Life Rehearsals Under Dan Totheroh

The first of the peninsula's winter plays, Saroyan's The Time of Your Life is off to a flying start with Edward Kuster producing, Dan Totheroh directing a hand-picked cast of 25, and Bob Apple stage-managing. The date fixed for the first performance is Monday, December 23. Rehearsals are well under way, but as a few roles are not permanently set, the cast will not be announced until next week.

The Monterey Peninsula Community Players is the name that has been decided upon by Edward Kuster, director of the Playhouse, for the people, now 180 in number, who have recently registered for participation in local plays. Kuster undertakes full responsibility for all productions at the Golden Bough, with such assistance in play-selection as may be rendered by those who have registered for participation. At times he will arrange that directors other than himself will function. In the present instance, Dan Totheroh, noted playwright and screen writer, is making a generous gesture toward the Playhouse and toward the community by donating his talent, time and enthusiasm to the direction of The Time of Your Life, one of his favorite plays.

Totheroh's new screen play, Deep Valley, now in production in Hollywood, will be released shortly. Everyone remembers his notable All That Money Can Buy, and screen adaptations of Benet's The Devil and Daniel Webster. Two of his Broadway successes were Distant Drums and Wild Birds, the latter a Burns Mantle selection as one of the best ten plays of its year. Dan Totheroh's home, when his varied activities in the theater and in the films do not call him to New York, San Francisco and Hollywood, is Carmel, where he spends as much of his time as possible.

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, December 8, for which the following Golden Text is taken from Acts: "Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is" (4:24).

Included in the sermon are these citations:

Psalms 95:6, "O come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the Lord our maker."

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "When we realize that Life is Spirit, never in nor of matter, this understanding will expand into self-completeness, finding all in God, good, and needing no other consciousness" (p. 264).

St. John's Chapel

Del Monte

The Rev. Theodore Bell
Chaplain

St. John's Chapel is a beautiful little church nestling in a grove of giant oak trees. Men and women from many lands have found it to be a place apart. It may be that you also will find its atmosphere congenial to the spiritual life. The Chapel is open all day long. Those who seek in its stillness to grow more conscious of God's presence do not go unrewarded.

Sunday services at eight and eleven a.m. The Chapel is close to Hotel Del Monte.

sermon theme by Dr. James E. Crowther on Sunday at the Church of the Wayfarer. Christmas carols will be sung. Margaret Sherman Lea will play the following organ selections: They Call Him, Jesus—Pietro Yon; O Bethlehem, Basque; Let Carols Ring, Swedish; The Adoration of the Shepherds, Catalan; Let Our Gladness, Old Bohemian. The Church School is at 9:45. The Church Service is at 11. Visitors are cordially invited.

During the days of prohibition, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lowenstein ran a speak-easy up on North Dolores street, not far from Gus Englund's home. Gus Englund, growing suspicious of the hilarity which resounded through Carmel's quiet nights in that neck of the woods, raided the place one fine Monday morning in January of '29 and discovered a horde of synthetic gin. The Lowensteins were punished by having to pay a fine of $150 each, but nothing was further said about the gin.

BOX Q-1

December 2, 1946

To The Pine Cone Cymbal:

This letter is contributed at request of Miss Elizabeth Niles, the efficient and always helpful librarian of the Harrison Memorial Library, an institution supported by the taxpayers of Carmel.

My daughter, resident of Washington, D. C., is an established writer whose articles have appeared in several leading magazines. Last week she advised another article was in Vogue, issue of November 15. Naturally, I was interested to read it. At the library, where the convenience of readers is promoted and research on almost any subject is available for ready reference, I carefully scanned the pages of the Vogue number, but failed to locate the article. Puzzled, I referred to my daughter's letter. It stated her article was on page 293. The day following at the library, my surprise and chagrin may be imagined to find pages 293-7 had been deleted, surreptitiously snipped—the tell-tale evidence conspicuous. A petty theft had been committed, to be brutally frank.

Reporting my discovery to the librarian, Miss Niles advised such pernicious practices often were encountered; books and magazines returned with entire pages removed, current newspapers and magazines, on the stands, with portions mutilated. Hence, this communication to The Pine Cone which may render an effective aid in unmasking and minimizing future similar acts of vandalism.

Wm. L. Hudson, village attorney, advises such acts fall within the category of malicious mischief, and, as such, subject to punishment. W. E. Pulliam.

RED + NEWS

Who says that our local Red Cross Production room corps has been deactivated.

This is a definite service that has not been discontinued and since the early months following the close of the war has shown no signs of losing momentum. Services of course have veered from assistance to the boys in servjoe to the hospitals and to the needy abroad.

A brief resume of the work accomplished during the past four months is indicative of the magnificent co-operation that is present among the limited numbers of women who give their time in the Red Cross production room almost daily. These workers are filling the quotas assigned to them by Area Headquarters of the American Red Cross, have completed articles during this period which adds up to the astounding total of 145 men's pajamas and 24 kit bags to be sent to military hospitals, 53 girls' dresses, 58 girls' skirts, 35 boys' wool coats, 28 boys' shirts shipped abroad, 215 surgical caps made for doctors in military hospitals, 87 pairs of cretonne curtains completed for the recreation hall at the Presidio and at time of writing the same faithful group is hard at work making 1,200 Christmas stockings for the boys who are in prison camp at Camp McQuaid.

The most recent assignment accepted by the production corps, which is still in the "cutting stage" is 50 layettes for babies, each layette including nine different items, these are to be shipped abroad.

The quotas assigned to Carmel chapter so far have been small but they would joyfully be increased if the personnel to complete them was available. There is a great work to be done, your local Red Cross needs you and can use you if you can sew, if you have the time to give and if you are vitally interested in the great task to be accomplished.

Emma Rendtorff

Mrs. Karl Rendtorff, widow of the late Professor Karl Rendtorff of Stanford University, died Wednesday, November 27, at her home on Camino Real. Her death occurred after a long illness.

A trail-blazer in the cultural life of the community, she and her husband belonged to the Stanford group who first began coming to Carmel around 1900, and they built their home on Camino Real in 1913. It was not until Prof. Rendtorff's retirement in 1929, however, that they lived here permanently.

The former Emma Meyer of St. Louis, Missouri, she moved to San Diego shortly before entering college and graduated from Stanford University in 1898. She married Prof. Karl Rendtorff, a member of the Stanford faculty, a year later.

Active in the civic affairs of the community, Mrs. Rendtorff was the chairman of the Carmel Chapter of the American Red Cross, a member of the Harrison Memorial Library Board and of the Unemployment Commission, and belonged to the Church of the Wayfarer. In early days, she was an officer of the Forest Theatre Association and took an active part in productions. Her home in Carmel was for many years the monthly gathering place for a study group on foreign affairs.

She leaves her daughter, Miss Gertrude Rendtorff, who is dean of girls at Monterey High School; and her sister, Mrs. Adele Meyer Outcalt of San Diego.

Eleven years ago, in August of 1935, she wrote a message to her husband and daughter, and last year, following Prof. Rendtorff's death on May 5, 1945, she handed this message to Rev. James E. Crowther to be read at her funeral.

"To my husband and daughter:
"Life has been sweet.

"Life's two great blessings, love and work, were mine.

"Love—with its strong protecting arms, its patience born of understanding, and its quick and never-failing sympathy.

"Such love was mine.

"And work—work that brought joy and hope. Joy in the doing of each simple task. Hope that the doing might bear fruit; the fruit of satisfaction, the certainty that work alone will give true happiness and bring us nearer to life's deeper meaning.

"And after work? A gentle weariness—a deep content—a peaceful rest—and—sleep."

Emma Rendtorff.

Rev. James E. Crowther, who officiated at the private funeral services held on Friday, November 29, at the T. A. Dorney Chapel in Monterey, used part of her message Sunday as a text for his sermon at the Church of the Wayfarer.

BASKETBALL ACTIVITY ON THE PENINSULA

Tonight: Carmel High School Lightweights and Varsity vs. Alumni, 7:30 p. m.
Madera High School at Pacific Grove High School, 7:30 p. m.

CARMEL PREPS-ALUMNI CLASH TONIGHT

At 7:30 tonight in the high school gym local hoop enthusiasts will have an opportunity to witness a little past and present in the casaba sport. The Carmel High School Alumni team, made up of graduates of the high school, will test their years of knowledge and experience against the green babes now in the act of absorbing the three Rs. Many of the boys on the alumni are veterans just out of the service and anxious to feel the thrill of friendly competition again. The high school team has not been tested so far this season, and this encounter will serve as a tightener before they start interscholastic competition.

The high school lightweights will meet the alumni not so lightweights at 7:30 and the Varsity fray will commence about 8:30.

Probable starting lineups follow:

Alumni lightweights: Weigold, Leffingwell, McElroy, Konrad, Hendricks.

High School lightweights: Risell, Sapsis, Monahan, Wight, Weer.

Alumni varsity: Uzzell, Bob Weer, Gargiulo, Miyamoto, Wer-muth.

High School Varsity: Templeman, Hodges, Brown, Schmutz, Pitman.

AWARD ASSEMBLY FOR HIGH SCHOOL GRIDDEES

With 44 boys receiving awards earned by hard diligent work in football, this year's football award assembly topped any previously held at Carmel High. Twenty-three varsity boys earned their blocks, while twenty-one Limiteds met the qualifications for the football award. In order to earn a football award a boy must participate in half the quarters played by the team and show good qualities of sportsmanship throughout the season.

Rod Dewar, Carmel's dependable all-CCAL guard, had more playing time than any other gridder, but he was closely followed by Richard Moore, the workhorse tackle. Rod has another year of high school football and should be one of the best guards in CCAL history.

As only nine of the award winners graduate this year the prospects for 1947 look promising in that the Padres will be able to field a team of players who have had considerable game experience.

Bob Bell, who is completing his fourth season of football for the Red and Gray, was elected football captain for the 1946 season. Bob has played stellar ball all season and ranked high in the sports writers' selection for all-CCAL.

Pat and Mike, two of the most popular managers ever to chaperone a football team received manager's blocks for duty well done. Pat Casey and Mike Dormody have set outstanding examples for other managers to follow.

ANOTHER WIN FOR LEGION

Base hits rang all over the Monterey ball park last Sunday morning when the local American Legion team hung a 13 to 5 shellacking on the Monterey nine. With Gordy Miyamoto in control of the situation at all times the Carmel swingers had things pretty much their own way. Gordy had a 1 hit shutout going into the seventh inning, but gave up five hits in the last two innings to mar his shutout. The Carmel boys turned in some nice fielding plays to help their cause. Jay Huffman knocked down a sure basehit at third base and tossed to Ky Miyamoto at home plate to cut off a run. Vic Marconi showed a shotgun arm from left field to keep the Monterey runners wary on the bases.

Jim Kelsey and Jim Hale led the Carmel swatters, each garnering two hits in three trips to the dish. All the Carmel players collected at least one hit and the batting averages of most soared over the 200 mark. At the present time Jim Kelsey is leading the Carmel hitters with an average of .386.

Next Sunday Carmel tangles with the Pacific Grove nine in a contest which should bring out the best in both teams as the rivalry is mighty keen. Carmel lineup follows: Ky Miyamoto, Gordy Miyamoto, Jim Hale, Jim Kelsey, Bill Askew, Jay Huffman, Russ Bohlke, Bud Butts, Raleigh Belvall, Vic Marconi, and John Younkin.

This year alone, we have added
305,000 telephones

They're going in as fast as we are able to install them . . . the telephones needed on the Pacific Coast. In 1946 alone, we have already added more than 305,000 and thousands more go into service every month. But there is still a big job ahead.

Complicated switchboards, cables, dial equipment and even new buildings have to be built before everyone who wants a telephone can get one. This will take time because our progress is handicapped by shortages of materials and by the disturbed conditions throughout the country affecting manufacturers' output and our construction projects. Meanwhile you may be certain that we will do everything we can.

For it is our purpose in our huge expansion program to provide service for everyone who wants it just as rapidly as possible . . . better service than ever before . . . a more valuable service to every user. We are spending this year for gross plant additions an aggregate of $130,000,000 which exceeds by $55,000,000, or 73 per cent, our previous highest yearly plant expenditures in 1941 of $75,000,000.

An ever-improving telephone service at the least cost consistent with good wages and working conditions for our employees and a reasonable return to the thousands of people who have invested in the business.

New Shows at Gallery

BY NANCY LOFTON

The general oil show of the work of Association members which now hangs in the main exhibition room of the Carmel Art Association Gallery on Dolores runs true to form in that the show consists of variations on the familiar themes of sand, sea and surf, but some of the variations are interesting and a few new themes are introduced. Now that all of our scenery is apt to be obscured by rain, you can derive a certain amount of pleasure by going into the gallery to see how the peninsula looks in happier seasons.

Abel Warshawsky's Galatea is a large, skillfully painted nude with a retiring air about it—and the mere presence of a nude in the show is a relief from a surfeit of scenery. Mr. Warshawsky has also in the show a fanciful little picture of a medieval princess and assorted fairy tale characters.

The Season Opens by Marjorie Doolittle is colorful and lively and well-done. The artist is not merely repeating what she sees before her, but is using her material intelligently to re-create her individual reactions to the scene. Her picture suggests the wetness and the activity about the boats and her color is divided and planed in an interesting manner.

Frank Myers' High Seas has a sombre and imaginative quality about it. He has scratched away his paint in some areas to give highlights and this, with the fat quality of his paint, has given the picture solidity. He has captured well the threatening character of the sea and its bordering rocks.

John O'Shea's Rocks has the same feeling of massiveness with the fluid power of the water contrasted with the solidity of the rocks. The sombre setting is relieved by the deep and vibrant color of the sea.

William P. Silva is represented by several of his romantic pictures of scenes from far away and long ago. His delicacy of drawing and color give a nostalgic charm to his misty scenes of the south.

Included in the show are Jesu, Phil Nesbitt's decorative treatment of a religious theme; Canyon After Rain and Rocks by Paul Dougherty, the former very fresh and solid; Monterey Coast and Cashé Valley, by Lee Randolph, the former with some interesting texture among his rocks; Point Lobos by M. DeNeale Morgan, painted in a bright key; Pacific Shore by Burton Boundey, painted in a golden mood; Spirit of the Rodeo by Armin Hansen, painted with an eye for significant and suggestive detail; Meadow by Thomas McGlynn with a misty light upon the trees; Haze After Storm by William Watts, which catches the coast in a Valhalla-like mood; Allegory by W. K. Fisher, painted in a literal manner; Portrait Study by Leslie Emery; Day Unto Day by Thomas McGlynn; Window Rock by Charlotte Morgan; Ripening Grass by Florence True; Cypress and Sea by Ralph Murray; Portrait by I. Maynard Curtis; Autumn Reflections by Frank Moore; The Inlet by E. M. Heath; The Pass by Howard Smith; Gulls by George Koch; California Hills by Arthur Hill Gilbert; Untangling The Net by K. Aflund; Denizens of Another Realm by William Ritschel; Lace and Old Gold by Edward Langley; An Interior by I. Maynard Curtis; and Yellow Hat by Henrietta Shore.

In the small central gallery is a group of portraits painted by outstanding portraitists among the Association. In the group are portraits done in the most representational manner as well as in a looser technique. The group consists of the work of Martin Baer, Richard Lofton, Abel Warshawsky, Claude Buck, Howard Smith, Leslie Emery, Henrietta Shore, and Florence Lockwood.

Small Pictures for Christmas At Carmel Gallery

In the George Beardsley Memorial Room in the Carmel Art Association Gallery on Dolores street is now hanging a large group of small pictures designed apparently to catch the eye of Christmas shoppers who want some small picture. The show is rather overpowering by sheer weight of numbers. There is a tremendous number of pictures in the show, which can be considered only as what it is—a large group of small pictures of every description. A show of this character can be distinguished neither for its content nor for its hanging. Included in the show are etchings, lithographs, drawings, water colors, oils, tempera paintings and what have you. Oddly enough there is only one picture of the Old Carmel Mission in the show, but there is a due quota of pictures of the sand and the sea and the cypresses. There are children's pictures, still life paintings, satiric drawings, horses and landscapes. There are some interesting paintings in the show, some from

Luba Sharoff At Golden Bough

On Sunday afternoon, December 15, at 2:30, and again on Monday evening, December 16, at 8:30, Luba Sharoff will present a series of exotic character sketches at Golden Bough Playhouse.

Born in China of Georgian parents, Miss Sharoff travelled almost continuously throughout her girlhood in the Far East and in the little known regions of southern Russia. Now, though still very young, she has originated and developed a one-woman show of surpassing interest. In magnificent costumes, by means of speech and gesture, authentic dance and strange haunting music, she delineates fascinating characters from many ancient lands.

Tickets for this colorful program are now on sale at the Playhouse.

Association members whose work has not been seen lately, and practically anyone should be able to find a buyable picture in the show.

BUT THEY DON'T HAVE TO SLEEP ALL WINTER
THEY JUST CHANGE TO GOLDEN SHELL

For good bad-weather driving change now to Golden Shell

Golden Shell Motor Oil brings you another development of Shell Research—an improved oxidation inhibitor.

Added to Golden Shell during manufacture, this new inhibitor resists the gum, lacquer and sludge formation which cause engine wear and breakdown. It makes Golden Shell an oil that stays free flowing and on-the-job from one oil drain to the next.

So for good bad-weather driving, you'll find it pays to change now to Golden Shell Motor Oil.

Have You Read . . . ?

BY ROSALIND SHARPE

Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, by Lewis Carroll.

We aren't being funny. The point is, have you read it lately?

Several years ago, the New Yorker ran a story about an anxious little man on a subway who kept pulling a big watch out of his pocket and looking at it. Finally, gloves in hand, with another desperate glance at his watch, he dashed down the aisle and got off. The conductor turned to the people in the car and said "But it was the best butter."

Meaningless to people unacquainted with Alice, it's a marvelous story to those in on the lingo. Alice has crept into the language and become an important part of us in a humorous, fantastic way. Devotees of Alice have gone so far as to read into it social and political significance, and extremists regard it as a satirical allegory.

In due respect to the deeper meaning school, however, after an intent perusal of Alice, we can't agree, for search as one will for political and social symbols they just don't seem to be there in any coherent or deliberate sequence. They do occur occasionally—e. g. the trial scene, the croquet game, and particularly in Through the Looking Glass when Alice encounters the White Knight who launches into a famous description of his useless inventions. But they occur as an aside, a comment that Lewis Carroll couldn't resist. The essence of Alice is that it is compounded of contradiction and paradox and the nonsense of serious things. Lewis Carroll's prime motive in writing it was to amuse his little girl.

Whether he amused his little girl or not is something we will never know, but most children find Alice unutterably tedious, yawn when their parents read it aloud to them and sigh for the comics or Captain Blood. Their interest may be fleetingly captivated by the Cheshire Cat, Father William and Jabberwocky, the Ugly Duck and the croquet game with flamingos and hedge-hogs, but on the whole they find it disappointing, full of adventures that don't seem to turn into anything. Adults, conversely, find it utterly absorbing.

In Alice we have the paradox of a fairy tale which only adults can enjoy. Thus the emergence of the deeper-meaning school, for adults, like Alice, want to justify themselves, find logical reasons for things. The easiest way to explain the phenomenon of the sophisticated mind becoming intoxicated with the sheer nonsense of Alice is to say that Alice has hidden depths.

Although we don't feel that liking Alice requires justification, we agree about the depths. The thing that makes Alice more than a fairy tale is the way Lewis Carroll, whose humor is marvelously subtle, reduces everything serious in the world of sense and pomp to sheer ridiculousness. With a love of paradox, of the unreality of reality, the unimportance of being earnest (pun!), plays on words, absurd rationalizations and the idiocy of logic, he has woven a dream-sequence full of silly arguments and pointless conversations. Whenever logical discussion reaches an impasse, someone says, "Let's change the subject."

This appeals to adults who have a subtle, though perhaps unconscious, sense of the absurdity of the ponderous and wish they too might change the subject or say, when people annoy, "Off with their heads."

In recapturing the spirit of childhood with its dreamy, unexpected, baffling qualities of reality which don't stay the same or make sense for five consecutive minutes; the essential wonder, bewilderment and amazed delight of the state where anything may happen and usually does, and which, while certainly very strange, doesn't seem strange or nonsensical after first glance; the confused but essentially trusting acceptance of everything new, unexplained and unfamiliar, Lewis

AUTUMN IN VERMONT

*Burning bronze and flaming maple
Sweep the hills in radiant fire.
Summer wrapped in hazy orchid
Flees before the flaring pyre
Of crimson light and molten gold.
The fiery-fantasy is brief . . .
From the heavens, cooling crystals
Purify in white relief.*

—HELEN COOLIDGE.

PLEA FOR PEACE

*You who sit at the council table
And with a flourish of the pen can bring
Darkness at noon for days and days to come,
Take heed and listen:
Hold down the flag,
The bloody rag of war.*

*Think of the dreams yet afloat,— Sails without a ship, ships without a master,—
Seeking in vain the young,
The brave and the believing . . .*

Where are they now, where are their graves, pray?

*Take heed and listen:
Cassino, Normandy,
New Guinea, Okinawa,
Strange far places,
Will furnish the answer, will stay
The bitter ink of hate
Before it touches paper.*

—ALFRED LEWIS

KNOWING

*To know is not to go away
And stand upon a hill and say,
Today I baked bread and it was warm and brown.*

*Turn into the wind and find
Even now the bread is dry.
Only the knowing is immortal.*

—ELIZABETH HOLT SUTTON

SONG

*I sang, though in my heart was emptiness.
I sang of love—so none might ever guess
My lack of it . . . my own heart's loneliness.*

*I gave my song—a song's of little worth
Unless within the singer love has birth.
There was no cause for singing on this earth. . . .*

*Until you came! Then in my heart there stirred
A rapture clearer than the song of bird!
I sang my soul to you, in flame-tipped word.*

*And all my dream of love at last came true!
But those who heard my singing never knew,
My song I gave to them . . . myself to you.*

Days Before Yesterday

BY L. L. TURNER

There hasn't always been a housing shortage in Carmel, at least during the winter, and there have been discoverable ways to beat the high cost of rent. It's true that in the summer, especially around early July when a Serra pageant or some other elaborate historical spectacle was planned, it wasn't possible to find accommodations unless one engaged them beforehand, but even then prices were very reasonable compared with rates in recent years. Twenty dollars a month in the summer for a five or six room cottage in the area between Monte Verde and San Carlos was not unusual, and a three-room cottage, without bath, brought twelve a month in the season, and half that the rest of the year. These were furnished, of course. The few houses near the beach brought a little more, but still rents were not exorbitant.

Strangely, there were very few cottages along the beach, and not more than one or two on the whole point, and of course there was no Scenic Drive, while Carmel Woods was woods and nothing more. Oh, yes, there was Mary Austin's tree house where she had done much writing, and she was building an honest-to-goodness dwelling (she had occupied a small cottage in the canyon). One irreverent male who was privileged to visit the not-quite-finished domicile declared that the fireplace of native rock with chimney running up through the ceiling looked "like a fat policeman with a corset on." So there wasn't much to rent north of the canyon.

Beating the rent situation was entirely possible. Many owners of cottages occupied them for two or three months during the summer and closed them for the rest of the year, coming down perhaps for a week at Christmas and maybe spring vacation, with a possible weekend or so during the slack times, but automobiles weren't so common then, and short visits to Carmel not so convenient. Often a year-round resident not too far away was asked to keep an eye on the place during the owner's absence.

One such accommodating resident had her eyes on two or three cottages in her neighborhood, and when the owners requested she made arrangements to have the houses cleaned and aired for periodical occupancy. Residents didn't go out in the evenings very often, but one night as she was passing the house on the next block to her home, she thought she saw a gleam of light beneath a window shade. Cautiously approaching, but not too near, she assured herself that there was a light in the room. As she lived alone with no near and permanent neighbors, she delayed investigation till daylight.

The next morning, accompanied by the stalwart arm of the law—probably it was Gus—she boldly entered the front door (of course she had the key) and inspected the place. Evidences of recent fire in the fireplace were convincing, and in the bedroom the bed was undoubtedly occupied, moreover, a man's nondescript clothing hung in the closet! The arm of the law didn't have much to suggest, but they agreed the thing to do was to come again in the evening when there was a streak of light showing. A clump of young pines and tall manzanita bushes hid the telltale window except from one spot.

When they approached the cottage well after dark that night they thought they saw a faint curl of smoke rising into the pine branches, but it could be a wisp of fog. When they entered by way of the front door the startled rent-beater had no warning to make his escape, and meekly surrendered. He had been living in the place almost three months, entering after dark and leaving at early dawn by a window almost completely hidden by the wild shrubbery which separated the cottage from the only other one on the block. Keeping the shades closely drawn, he had become careless by his success and had not recently inspected his hideaway from outside. He worked at odd jobs on the peninsula and usually took his meals at an inexpensive unfashionable joint on a back street.

Hi Chatter...

By MARY GREGORY

A new and interesting type of assembly was inaugurated last week when G. Pollard of the Monterey Employment Service spoke to the junior and senior students about the many types of jobs—over 3,500—existing today. The work of the employment agencies and the importance of high school preparation for occupations of the future were discussed.

This was but the first of a number of vocational talks which will be given by guest speakers during the year. Each will attempt to cover the questions of (1) Importance of the Occupation; (2) Nature of the Work; (3) Working Conditions; (4) Personal Qualities Needed; (5) Preparation Needed; (6) Opportunities for Advancement; (7) Compensation; (8) Advantages and Disadvantages. December 9 our vice-principal, Leon Minear, will discuss the field of aviation from knowledge gained from years of working with Pan-American. Other subjects will be: medicine, newspaper, law, radio, civil service, nursing for girls and building trades for boys, clerical for girls and light and power industry for boys, and stores and management.

Another thoroughly enjoyable assembly was presented last Monday by Mr. William Everman, who demonstrated the extraordinary properties of liquid air. In the course of the lecture, which Mr. Everman presented very much as a magician does his magic, mercury was quickly frozen hard enough to hammer nails into a solid board; a rubber ball became so brittle as to break into many pieces upon being dropped; and with powdered aluminum liquid oxygen pulverized a tin can. In short, it was an amazing assembly.

With Thanksgiving vacation over and Christmas bounding up, plans for the Winter Ball are in full swing. The Ball, sponsored by the Student Body, is one of three formal dances in the year. Susan Moore, commissioner of social activities, is in charge of arrangements this year. She has appointed Robert Jensen head of a decoration committee composed of Joan Carr, Laurel Hildebrand, "Ginger" Klein, and Mary Gregory. Peggy Riker and her staff of Teddy Greene, Sue Douglas, and Biz Carr has already started the publicity campaign. Refreshments are in the hands of Betty Plaxton, Sue Dekker, Carmelita Fortier, Betty Hendricks, and Ann Whitaker. Owen Greenan, assisted by Bill Herlihy, Bob Bell, Dan Holmes and Legare McNeil, will sell the tickets, which will be $2.50 per couple with Student body card, $3.00 per couple

Pay Up Drive On For Legion Members

At the regular monthly meeting of the Carmel Post of the American Legion, #512, last Monday evening, it was reported that 150 members will be in arrears on dues for 1947 beginning January 1 unless they pay up my pronto. Spiers Ruskell, Adjutant, is in charge of the collection of dues for 1947 and members are urged to contact him as soon as possible.

With the addition of eight new members Monday night, the local post has soared to a new total of 297 members. New members are: R. D. Smith, Charles H. Miller, Nat R. Freeman, Robert L. Little, W. M. Cater, Joseph H. Schoniogh, William I. Merrill and Richard R. Belton.

Plans for the annual Christmas gift program and 49'er party were discussed at the meeting, and Geo. Knapp, past commander and chairman of the annual party, announced that the 49'er affair is set for Saturday, December 14, with games and dancing to a five-piece orchestra. The party is strictly invitational for members and guests. It will begin between 7 and 9 p.m.

The Christmas gift program will start immediately, and Jim Cooke, in charge of the project, invites all Carmel residents to contribute to it so that gifts may be collected and distributed to servicemen in local hospitals by Christmas time. Gifts may be left at Childers' service station, the M. J. Murphy office on San Carlos street, the Carmel Realty Company or the Glennon Spaulding Sport Shop, and do not need to be wrapped.

Last year 300 gifts were collected in Carmel and it is hoped that this year the total may equal it or be even larger, with so many servicemen hospitalized at Fort Ord, the Del Monte Naval station, the Presidio of Monterey and the Coast Guard hospitals during the without, and $3.50 for stags. The tickets must be purchased before December 13.

Carroll makes vivid to us again not only the psychological state of the child who is becoming acquainted for the first time with the world of outward reality, but simultaneously uncovers the buried naevete of the adult, who, despite his rational common sense, still harbors in unguarded moments the baffled, bewildered, expectant attitude of the child.

From this point of view, the deeper meaning school is justified in scenting something under the surface, for while Alice is not a deliberate allegory on the human spirit in its grappling with reality, its basis lies in this very element of humorous unreality, where one bumps into strange things which shift and fail to come to anything and turn into something else and end up, for all the argument, in making no sense.

It would be to miss the point altogether, however, to look at Alice from a strictly serious, analytical angle. In writing a book for his daughter, Lewis Carroll was simply unable to resist poking fun at the world as he found it, full of silly formalities, nonsense, ponderous solemnity over matters of no import and so on, but the main thing is his humor, his appreciation for the comic in argument and logic, his underlying, irresistible enjoyment of puns, plays on words and nonsense for its own sake.

Perhaps the best way to look at Alice is to take it as it comes, Mad Tea Party, Cheshire Cat, Croquet Match and all.

Christmas season.

Edward C. Bauman and Robert Little are assisting Jim Cooke on the committee.

How to Stop Worrying

I guess folks in our town do about as much worrying as in yours—over housing and prices, and crops, and jobs—and the little domestic problems that are always coming up.

Dad Hoskins, who's lived to the happy age of eighty, has a simple formula for stopping worry. About every problem, he asks himself: Is there anything I can do about it? If there is, he never postpones making a decision, or taking necessary action.

If there isn't anything he can do about it, he sets aside a "worrying hour" after dinner, and gets his worrying over in one concentrated period. When that's over, he relaxes over a friendly glass of beer with Ma Hoskins—and they talk about pleasant things together, until bedtime.

From where I sit, that's as workable a formula as you could find... right down to the mellow glass of beer that seems to wink away your worries.

Headley-Willert Wedding

Miss Evelyn Headley and Arthur Willert, Jr., exchanged their marriage vows November 30 at the old Mission, Father Albert R. Bandini, reading the ritual. Clusters of white chrysanthemums were used to decorate the taper-lit church, with pews reserved for the families draped with white ribbon holding bunches of gardenias. The bride went to the altar on the arm of her father, Mr. Floyd C. Headley. She wore a beige tailored suit with brown accessories and a spray of brown orchids. The bride's attendant was her sister, Mrs. Nicholas Trani of San Pedro, who wore a suit of avacoda green, brown accessories and a corsage of fuchsia colored cyclamen. Nicholas Trani acted as best man and the guests were shown to their seats by George Hansen of Pacific Grove.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson on Dolores. Calla lilies and chrysanthemums decorated the table where the three tiered wedding cake was presided over by Mrs. Jenness Larson who had come from Eugene, Oregon for the wedding. Miss Dolores Taylor of Long Beach, daughter of Mrs. Larson, served the champagne punch.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Willert, Sr., and their daughter, Elizabeth, came from Los Angeles for the ceremony.

Both bride and groom have been living in Carmel but on their return from their honeymoon will move into a home on Forest Avenue, Pacific Grove.

Another Grandson

Captain and Mrs. J. L. Hudson of Point Lobos received word early Tuesday morning of the birth of their second grandchild at Alta Bates Hospital in Berkeley. The baby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomson Jay Hudson and has been named for his father, who is now studying law at the University of California. Mr. Hudson was released from the army, after being wounded, where he was a Captain in the Paratroop Corps.

Holiday in Carmel

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Faser of San Jose expect to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. John E. Abernathy. Mr. Faser has been seriously ill, but is recovering and looking forward to the visit with their relatives here.

Women Voters

The Monterey Peninsula League of Women Voters will hold a general meeting next Thursday afternoon, December 12, at 2 o'clock at All Saints' Parish House. Mr. Zenas L. Potter will speak on the organization of Congress. Mr. Potter was in Washington in the service of the government throughout the war and can bring his own observations to the League. Incidentally, the local organization joined with other leagues throughout the country in urging reorganization of the national Congress to bring it to greater efficiency in carrying on its work.

New members will be welcomed at tea following the address, and all persons interested are urged to attend. Men are eligible for membership under the new rules. The two study groups are on International Relations, which met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Ferdinand Haasis, and on the Central Valley project, scheduled for next Friday, December 13, at 2:30 p. m. in the lobby of Hotel La Ribera.

Van Meter Reception

Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Van Meter will entertain at a large reception Sunday evening at their home on the Point in honor of their old friend, Dr. Marius Francoz, the San Francisco surgeon, who is their house guest. Mrs. Van Meter will be assisted by Mrs. Mari Pease of Stockton. About fifty guests have been invited to meet the honor guest. From out of town will come Doctor and Mrs. Robert Gordon Sproule of the University of California, Mr. and Mrs. Bromley Hill of Los Angeles, Mr. Maury House of San Francisco and Mr. Herbert Howard of Oakland. Dr. and Mrs. Van Meter are welcome additions to Carmel. They purchased a home on the Point two years ago, coming here to live permanently last September when Dr. Van Meter retired from the clinic that bears his name in Stockton.

Norman Little Honored

Lieutenant (j.g.) Norman Evan Little, husband of Mary Ethel Little of Carmel, has received a permanent citation for his Air Medal from Secretary of the Navy Forrestal for the President. The award was for completing his fifth photographic flight against the Japanese forces in the Western Pacific Combat Area.

Mylar Is Grandfather

Delamy Reams was born November 26 at the Peninsula Community Hospital, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reams of Del Monte. Mrs. Reams was Adele Mylar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mylar. Delamy, the first grandchild confers the honorary degree of grandpa on Fred Mylar. It's high time Fred gets an honorary degree for he has more jobs than anybody else in Carmel. Besides his regular job, working for Uncle Sam in the post office, he drives the ambulance, just for fun, and has been hauling prospective mothers to the hospital for goodness knows how long, and never got so much as a grandchild out of it. It's impossible to have a first class fire in Carmel without Fred Mylar. In fact, there is not much one can do without him and the local boys who run the fire department. There is considerable uneasiness around town for fear Fred's work around town is going to suffer now he has taken over the job of grandfather.

Dinner at Spindrift

The younger Flavins gathered at Spindrift for their last Thanksgiving in their home in the Highlands which has recently been sold. Flavins who gathered there were Flavia, Sean, who came down from Stanford, Martin, Jr., who is a medical student at the University of California Hospital, and with him was Katherine Parker, art expert and lecturer at the Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco.

Ensign Gardner in Guam

Mrs. F. E. Dowgiallo has received word from her son, Harvey R. Gardner, that he is now stationed in Agaña, Guam. Ensign Gardner, who has been in the V5 naval training program, recently flew to Hawaii and from there was assigned to Guam. Harvey Gardner has a host of friends in Carmel where he was graduated from the first class at Carmel High School.

Family Gathering

Mrs. Ena Reville, of Kinsella, Alberta, Canada, arrived in Carmel in time to spend Thanksgiving with her mother, Mrs. Isa Cray, and her brothers, Stanley and Artie Cray, and their families. Mrs. Doris Clay Olson and daughter, Sandra, were also included in the party.

A. A. U. W. Study Grants

Two of the thirty-three European women who have come to the United States on emergency international study grants from the American Association of University Women are enrolled in higher institutions in California. The Monterey Peninsula branch of the organization so far has contributed $750 to these funds which are designed to enable women of the devastated countries to carry on research in some higher branch of learning in this country while their own universities are not functioning.

Miss Anne Sophie Oestvedt of Norway is studying nutrition at the University of California on a renewal of her grant in 1945-46, as she was among the first six to come to this country for study under this plan. She visited the Monterey Peninsula Association at the April meeting. Mrs. Barbara Wharton Rogers-Low from Great Britain, graduate of the University of Oxford, is doing research work on the structure of penicillin at the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena.

In addition to those having emergency funds are six women who were given research fellowships that for a number of years have been a regular part of the A. A. U. W. program. In all there are five students each from Norway and Denmark, nine from France, four each from Holland and Belgium, three each from Luxembourg and Poland, two each from Britain and Greece, and one each from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia.

Mrs. Hand's Guests

Mrs. D. W. Hand recently went to Los Angeles to meet her sister, Mrs. Thomas F. Porter, and Mrs. W. K. Gray from Lake Charles, Louisiana. Mrs. Harold Stream of Los Angeles joined the party, and they have all been the guests of Mrs. Hand at her home on San Antonio street. Mrs. Stream, daughter of Mrs. Gray, was a debutante of New Orleans last year and queen of one of the Mardi Gras balls.

W. J. Tochers Go To Berkeley

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Tocher and son, Richard, spent Thanksgiving with Mr. Tocher's aunt, Mrs. Eva Stone, in Berkeley, returning Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Tocher Jr., and Don Tocher, all of Berkeley, joined in the festivities.

Food Sale Saturday

Junipero Serra Mothers' Club members have been busy this week preparing all sorts of good things that will be available at Billy Burke's Hardware Store tomorrow morning at 10 a. m. The sale will last until 4 p. m. if there is anything left by that time.

Author Spent Holiday In Carmel

Mrs. H. Lewis Moore, who writes under the pen name of Mae Arthur, came down from San Francisco to spend Thanksgiving in Carmel. Mrs. Moore, who is a native of Atlanta, Georgia, is working on The Story of Frank Devony and His Violins.

Louise Bentley Here for Holiday

Mrs. Louise Bentley, formerly of Carmel, who spent some years in Peiping, China, came down to the village from San Francisco to spend Thanksgiving.

Honeymoon In Carmel

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Gordon celebrated Thanksgiving at the La Playa where they are spending their honeymoon. Mr. Gordon is connected with the new magazine, Fortnight, devoted to California and Californians. Seeing Mae Arthur, the author, with a copy of Fortnight, he walked up to her and said, "Thanks Mae for the plug."

All Askew

Mrs. Jessie Askew had a big Thanksgiving dinner where the whole Askew clan gathered round the table. Mrs. Chester Shell came over from Hanford to take part in the family re-union.

Visit In Pasadena

Dr. and Mrs. Ernst V. Sahlsten and son, Peter, leave today for a brief visit with friends in their former home, Pasadena. They will return to Carmel Thursday morning of next week.

Scribe Rents Cross Gables

Dorothy Walker of the San Francisco News has taken Cross Gables on Camino Real between Thirteenth and Santa Lucia, where she expects to spend part of each week.

Mrs. Foster In City

Mrs. Michael Foster went to San Francisco Tuesday for a brief look at the bright lights.

Will Leave For China

Mrs. Don Painter and her small daughter, Susan, plan to leave Carmel early in January to join her husband, Captain Don Painter, in China, where he is pilot on Gen. George Marshall's plane.

Happy Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Abernathy entertained last Saturday evening at a buffet supper given in honor of Mrs. Abernathy's birthday. Decorations were red and white, with a red stemmed glass bowl filled with red and white carnations as the centerpiece on the table. A giant birthday cake, gift of Mrs. Milton Marguard (Peggy Porter) of Oakland and Carmel Valley, frosted with white and with Happy Birthday in red announced to the guests the reason for the celebration. A feature of the evening was a fashion show of the smart thing to wear in India given by Miss Mary Camp who modeled a number of lovely costumes that she brought from the Orient.

Soroptimists

Casa Munras was the gathering place for the Soroptimist Club on Tuesday when they held their regular luncheon. Lorraine Hutchinson urged the members to make a special effort to keep up attendance in order to win the regional attendance prize. Mary Campbell gave a talk on the district conference at Oakland. Attention was called to the Monterey Club's financial backing of the southwest regional project for conservation of forty acres of redwoods, known as Founders Grove. Gussie Meyers of Carmel is one of the Founders.

Altar Society

Mrs. Mary K. Solari will be hostess for the Carmel Mission Altar Society which will meet at her home, December 1, at 2 p. m. After a short business meeting members and their guests will enjoy a Christmas party. There will be singing, and a big gaily decorated yellow grab bag containing presents brought by the members will furnish a lot of fun. Mrs. Solari will be assisted by Mrs. R. Neumann and Mrs. Blanche O'Neil.

Audrey Mawdsley's Guest

Louise Kennington, who graduated last year at Carmel High School, came down from San Francisco to spend Thanksgiving and the weekend with her friend, Audrey Mawdsley. She returned for the St. Mary's-U. S. F. game at Kezar stadium.

Down From Portland

Dr. and Mrs. Charles T. Sweeney arrived in Carmel on Monday from Portland to spend the remainder of the winter in their Carmel home at Second and San Carlos.

"Pappy" Hicks' Birthday

Ralph Hicks, affectionately known here for years as "Pappy", had a birthday December 1 which was celebrated by a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Waldo Hicks. There to offer congratulations were Mrs. L. B. Morton, Mr. and Mrs. Carl P. Hicks, Billy Adams and John and Anne Hicks.

Message From Mona

Friends have received cards from the J. B. Coolidges, written from New Mexico, saying that they were enjoying their trip through the desert but had no time for loitering as they are running on close schedule.

Merivale To Be Speaker

Next Tuesday evening, December 10, Mr. Alexander Merivale will address Mrs. Glenn Clair in a class in current literature, in room 11 at Sunset School, at 7:30. Mr. Merivale has chosen as his subject the vigorous poetry of G. K. Chesterton and he will also discuss some of the work of Rudyard Kipling, a direct contemporary of Chesterton, who stood for far different ideals.

Mr. Merivale is a graduate of Cambridge University of England and finished his law studies in London, but his main interest lies in the field of language and literature. He is proficient in several languages and is a mine of information on various literatures. His deep interest in Chesterton's poetry will no doubt provide a rich entertainment for the class. Visitors are welcome to attend, for this course in current literature is held under the auspices of the Carmel Adult School.

Last Tuesday evening Mr. Alfred Wagstaff talked to this group on the short stories of Saki, H. H. Munro, and aroused the enthusiasm of the members for this unusual type of humor.

Thought for Meditation

There's ever walking
side by side,
To be accepted or denied,
A right or wrong that fills each day,
That never fails
to come our way.
A task that we're to live, to do,
Is making choice
between the two;
We find it's one
continuous fight,
To always stand for what is right.

Gormsen-MacSween Wedding

It was late afternoon last Saturday when Joan B. Gormsen and Ian MacSween plighted their troth before the altar in the sanctuary of the Church of the Wayfarer, with the Reverend James C. Crowther, officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Edward Summerfield. Alister MacSween, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The bride chose a dressmaker suit of bluish pink with gray accessories for the ceremony and wore an ermine stole and corsage of butterfly orchids. For "something old" she carried a point lace handkerchief that had been used by brides in the family for five generations. Only the families of the young couple and a few friends were present and immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. P. M. Bigelow. The table was decorated with baby roses, and perched on top of the two tiered bride's cake were two little cupids that have been in the family for one hundred and fifty years. The table was lighted by candles in hundred-year-old candlesticks of silver, family heirlooms.

Guests at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Summerfield of Oakland, Mr. and Mrs. Joe MacSween of San Pablo, Mr. and Mrs. Halsey Bradshaw of San Leandro, Alister MacSween and Mrs. Agnes MacSween of San Francisco, and Mrs. A. J. Shardlow, grandmother of the bride, who recently came to Carmel from England. Mrs. MacSween has lived in Carmel for two years and has many friends. Her former home was in Spokane. The groom is affiliated with Standard Oil in the refinery department and served more than two years in the Navy during the war. The young couple will be in Oakland until April when they will go to Lake Tahoe, where they will make their permanent home.

Finish Bride's Cake

Sunday night, following the wedding of her daughter, Mrs. Mamie Bigelow invited friends in for the evening to have a taste of the bride's cake. The wedding and reception guests were limited to the families of the bride and groom and Mrs. Bigelow wanted to include the intimate friends, so she gave a post-wedding supper.

Neubauers Leave Carmel

Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Neubauer have left Carmel. Mrs. Neubauer, who has been ill for some time, has been taken to a hospital in Palo Alto and Professor Neubauer has resumed his work at Lick Observatory, Mount Hamilton.

Disabled Veterans

Joseph W. Stilwell Chapter Number 85 of Disabled American Veterans met Tuesday night at the home of the originator of the Post, J. J. Walker, in Pacific Grove. Sig. Nylander, Commander of Golden Gate Chapter No. 75 and representative of the Disabled American Veterans Department of California was present to swear in new officers. Newly elected officers are Bill Woolsey, Carmel, Commander, Robert E. Boone, Monterey, Senior Vice President, Eldon Childress, Jr., Monterey, Vice Commander, J. J. Walker, Pacific Grove, Honorable Past Commander, First Sergeant B. C. Fisk, Fort Ord, Adjutant and Treasurer, Jack Moorman, Monterey, Chaplain. Mrs. Everil H. Klute, Carmel, Historian and Publicity. Commander Woolsey will make other appointments at the next meeting. Fourteen new members were added bringing the membership to twenty-four.

The next meeting will be Monday, December 16, at the Women's Civic Club Building, Grand Ave., Pacific Grove. All disabled veterans are welcome and are urged to bring copies of their honorable discharge and proof of disability.

Carol-Singers

The carolers of the Church of the Wayfarer had a wonderful time last Sunday night practicing the Christmas Carols.

Mr. John Farr directed the group as they sang many of the old favorites and some of the lesser known carols.

The Carolers extend an invitation to all those of high school or college age to join them on the three remaining Sunday nights before Christmas. The meetings will be held from 5 to 6 in the sanctuary and a social hour, during which refreshments will be served, will be held in the dining room following the meeting.

The group plans to go out caroling on one of the nights preceding Christmas, and its destination is the main section of Carmel.

Mrs. T. F. Baxter Returns

Mrs. T. F. Baxter of San Antonio and Eighth, returned to Carmel Wednesday after several weeks absence. Mrs. Baxter went to Stockton, her former home, because of the illness of her daughter Mrs. Joseph Detrich, who is now recovering. Mrs. Detrich has many friends in this area, as she and her children spent their summers in Mrs. Baxter's country place at Monterey Peninsula Country Club. After leaving Stockton, Mrs. Baxter went to Piedmont, where she spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her son, Dr. Philip Baxter, and his family.

Buick Pre-View

Anybody who is interested in looking at a brand new shiny Buick, which might be driven home later for keeps, will be able to see that beautiful car on display today, at the corner of Ocean and Dolores between 11:30 and 4 p. m. Donations will be accepted for the Monterey Community Center Building, which is being sponsored by the Monterey Chamber of Commerce, and if your donation doesn't drag a Buick or a rabbit out of the hat, it might produce an electric refrigerator, electric iron or perhaps a radio. Anyone feeling in a donating mood will be able to indulge themselves with a good chance of reward at The Carmel Book Sellers, Carmel Wine Shop, Betty Jean Newell's office and La Bonita Barber Shop.

Mary and Isabel Smith Home

Miss Isabel and Miss Mary M. Smith, who have spent three months in the middle west visiting in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and a flying visit with a niece in Chicago, have returned to their home at Dolores and Thirteenth.

Lyle Coopers Home

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Cooper who spent Thanksgiving with Mr. Cooper's mother in Wasica, Minnesota, have returned to Carmel.

Frankly, we don't know just what it's all about, but there will be a FOOD SALE at the CARMEL HARDWARE STORE on Dolores all day Saturday. Those famous caterers, Bill Burke and Bill Adams will preside over the occasion and serve up cakes, wimpyburgers, enchiladas, something with pickles in it and salad and beans on a plate. Maybe the CARMEL HARDWARE STORE is testing its kitchen ware. However, be there on Saturday—as if curiosity would let you stay away!

If we came in a Junior size the first thing we'd request for Christmas is one of the gabardine jumpers in MAXINE'S on Dolores. These jumpers come in sizes 9 to 15 and they're beautifully made with crepe lined tops, delicate piping, quilted pockets, pin-on felt flower bouquets and beautiful colors. Your Junior Miss would look delightful in the white or red one, with its full skirt, contrasting piping and little bouquets—and the model with heart shaped quilted pockets will run it a close second in a young girl's heart. The price, too, is right for Christmas.

THE HANDICRAFT COTTAGE on Dolores near Seventh has hand-made doll clothes pretty enough to make you long to play with dolls again. There are dainty lace trimmed petticoats and pleated skirts and ruffled dresses and also wardrobe trunks with tiny hangers and drawers which will make any little girl forget her inclinations to be a tomboy.

There's no need to wear yourself out completely with this business of shopping. Plan your buying day to start fairly early and when noon comes take at least an hour off and go to LA RIBERA'S DINING ROOM for a restful luncheon. There, in the pleasantest of surroundings, you'll find good food and music and you can eat and listen and talk as long as you like over a second or even a third cup of coffee. Luncheon is served at LA RIBERA from noon until two in the afternoon, and after a pleasant interlude you'll go on your way revitalized with energy and judgment much improved, and you'll be less likely to make the mistake of buying a bar for your aunt who's head of the W. C. T. U.

You will find angels to grace your Christmas in THE CYNTHIAN on Dolores. These angels made by Nancy Johnson of Carmel come in packages of three, ready to be cut out and placed on table or mantel or wherever you wish. They stand up securely and with their spreading wings and their beautiful colors—carmine, blue, light and dark green and silver, they'll make an appealing decoration. Their colors match the colors of the Blue Gate candles which you'll also find in THE CYNTHIAN in all sizes and colors. You may have matching angel place cards, too.

Here's a rare chance to add to your record library. SEVERN'S on San Carlos and Sixth is moving to a new location and as a parting gesture all SEVERN'S records, both classical and popular, will be sold at cost, beginning tomorrow, Saturday. There will be discounts also on all SEVERN'S stock wherever possible, so here's a good opportunity to buy radios, phonographs, electrical appliances, stoves and heating pads.

Do you know about Great Circles? About Ice Caps? About the geographic justification for belief in Atlantis? Probably not, for in the average education there is a woeful lack of geographical instruction, since most of us last heard of geography in the sixth grade. "A Geography for Grown Ups" by H. A. Cahan not only fills a great part of this gap but makes fascinating reading for anyone. You'll find it in THE VILLAGE BOOKSHOP on Ocean Avenue and it would make a good present, though you'll probably read it yourself before you give it away. Look in THE VILLAGE BOOKSHOP also for the new edition of Winterich's A Primer of Book Collecting and Sholem Asch's new novel East River.

This is a good time to get your cherished sweaters in good form before the winter chill and the holiday excitement set in. THE VILLAGE CLEANER on Ocean between San Carlos and Mission handles sweaters with gentle care, cleaning them, moth-proofing them and blocking them to size, stretching or shrinking to your specifications. THE VILLAGE CLEANER always does excellent cleaning and pressing in four days time, and in addition the shop will call for and deliver garments on Monday and Friday. Call 411 to have THE VILLAGE CLEANER Recall for your cleaning. There is no extra charge for this service.

In THE CARMEL BAKERY on Ocean between Lincoln and Dolores it's a toss-up between the marzipan confections and the fruit cakes. The marzipan, colorful little fruits and vegetables made of almond paste, look and taste like Christmas—they should be on every table and in every Christmas package, and the dark fruit cakes with nuts and raisins and fruit are as necessary to the celebration of Christmas as the tree itself. The dark fruit cakes at THE CARMEL BAKERY are made by Mr. John Frey, who was voted the best fruitcake maker from east to west when he worked for the United Airlines. There'll be white fruit cake later, if you're partial to that.

THE CARMEL BOOKSELLERS on Mission north of Fifth have made it very easy to buy Christmas books for children. In the attractive children's section of the shop are several tables piled high with books for all ages. One table contains books priced at fifty cents. Here you'll find the Romney Gar Mother Goose for example, and a new addition of James Whitcomb Riley's Poems of Childhood. Here too are the bright and appealing books on opera for children and Eugene Field's classic poems. On the table of dollar books are editions of classics every child should have: Bambi, Peter Churchmouse, Bob, Son of Battle, and Booth Tarkington's novels among many others.

After the war years during which a converted sugar sack was apt to be pressed into service it is pleasing to see the shelves of DEREK RAYNE'S CARMEL SHOP FOR MEN on Ocean near Lincoln full once more of fine white broadcloth shorts. These are Wilson's Super-Shorts, with an elastic back and snap fasteners in front. The material is good, the workmanship is durable and the price is reasonable—all at DEREK RAYNE'S.

Had you thought that you can save enough money by one large and elegant purchase at MERLE'S TREASURE CHEST on Ocean at Lincoln to purchase all your Christmas gifts? MERLE'S entire stock is reduced one third in price, and if you buy, say, that beautiful Danish clock surmounted by two white cockatoos or that lovely sparkling aquamarine ring edged with diamonds, you will be saving yourself one third of the amount such an elegant purchase usually costs—and there's the money for your Christmas shopping—which goes much farther at MERLE'S.

In order that those among us who are too busy and too frazzled to have their portraits made during the daytime may still have their Christmas portraits, MURL OGDEN, photographer on Ocean at Monte Verde, will open his studio in the evening upon appointment only, so call 1234—it's as easy as that—and make an appointment with MURL OGDEN to take your portrait in peace and quiet in the evening. Mr. Ogden says his goal is a likeness that is pleasing and gives lasting pleasure, and a picture of you by yourself or with other members of your family will certainly please someone—and wouldn't you like a picture of your two children together?

There's nothing like the glitter of mirrors and the lustre of fine leather and the muted scents of perfumed creams combined in a dressing case to make a woman feel luxurious. In FORTIER'S on Ocean at Dolores you can see dressing cases by Primrose House, Tussy and Dorothy Gray that combine all the beauty of fine leather and excellent workmanship with a complete line of beauty preparations. Primrose House makes a Deluxe Weekend case of genuine leather in a fine alligator grain in dubonnet, black, brown and red. The fitted tray which slips inside is really a complete dressing table with a large mirror. This sells for $40.00. Others range in price from $10.00 up.

In PUTNAM AND RAGGETT on Ocean you'll find Momarte Handbag Aristocrats which combine the long wearing qualities of vinyl plastic with beautiful workmanship and design. The material has the soft pliability of the finest calf and the bags are marked by individual details such as saddle stitching, double zippers and numerous inside compartments. There's a junior miss style, too, with over-arm strap, made in a modified pouch fashion.

Enticing and bewitching are the words for the Doral originals in THE SILVER THIMBLE on Dolores. These garments—nightgowns doesn't do them justice—are of sheerest Bemberg, which washes beautifully. We liked the one in yellow, with its divided halter top, its full flounced skirt and its black velvet ribbon bows. In the window of THE SILVER THIMBLE you'll see another Doral original, in pink sheer, ruffled and lace trimmed and satin ribbon bound. There's a fop piece, skirt and long sleeved jacket with a great bow tie in which you'll look quite delectable. In the same shop you'll find the Mabs pantie girdle with the delicate flower design as advertised in Vogue.

The dinnerware of fine pottery in GUMP'S on Dolores proves that California potters can produce table ware as beautiful and delicate and individual as the best anywhere. The dinner set by John and Jean Dowling, to be had in complete sets or in separate pieces, combines a nacreous glaze with a rich rough chocolate foundation and the pieces are well-designed and durable. The ware comes in white, green, or chartreuse combined with brown. The Daniel Rhodes pottery is marked by simplicity of design, fine color and decoration reminiscent of the prehistoric cave drawings of southern France. Working in bone china, Merlin Hardy produces dinnerware of great distinction, using all the knowledge he acquired as a painter. His apothecary jars and cigarette boxes use modern designs in decorative fashion. All of these artists work exclusively for GUMP'S and their work is an excellent contribution to the long list of native crafts to be found in GUMP'S.

Hand, foot and head comforters in brilliant hand crocheted wools are HOWARD'S suggestion for warming the inner and outer woman, both in doors and out. In HOWARD'S DRESS SHOP on Alvarado street in Monterey you'll find beautiful white mittens, with bright hearts and flowers and sets of embroidered caps with matching scarves and mittens in red, white, blue and yellow. There are fireside socks with felt soles and tiny white slippers for children, gaily decorated. There's a warm bed jacket in softer colors crocheted in a lace-like shell stitch with bed socks to match and solid color mittens in the classic cable stitch. They're all wool, hand made and bright and warm.

THE N. B. FLOWER SHOP on Lincoln south of Ocean has hand-made Chinese wood baskets filled with great pine cones and curious intricate seed pods from California's forests to carry the scent and feel of the country to your city-bound friends, who will think longingly of you in Carmel when they light their Christmas fires with the cones. These may be shipped anywhere in the country, making an unusual and welcome gift, for after its contents burn the basket makes a strong and decorative container for wood. Also in THE N. B. SHOP you'll find fragrant wreaths of redwood tips.

THE BEAUX ARTS PHOTOGRAPHY SHOP on Lincoln and Ocean has received a group of picture frames beautiful enough to be framed themselves. These frames are of delicate filigree, fine as lace, gold or silver plated and of embossed and engraved gold or silver plate. They are unusual and of the highest quality, fine enough to frame your most beloved pictures. They come in sizes from three to four inches to eleven by fourteen inches—and we liked the gold filigree ones best. They are beautiful enough to be worn as jewelry—if one could wear a frame.

The Ermine-Locke coats in LOUDA'S on Lincoln have the pliant crispness of fine taffeta. These coats, made of the side skins of the ermine dyed a beautiful silver brown, have a softness and lightness which makes them perfect for California winters. Such a coat of real Ermine, thank you, will cost $485.00 plus tax at LOUDA'S and you may have it with push-up sleeves or wide turn back cuffs, with Adrian shoulders or plain. We felt very regal slipping into one with a simple neckline and wide sleeves to be folded back into generous cuffs.

In LIAL'S MUSIC SHOP on Ocean at Monte Verde the news about Emerson table radios is that they're available. LIAL'S has several models for immediate delivery. As for records LIAL'S has a wide variety of children's records now, for example, Margaret O'Brien's album about the three bears and Rusty in Orchestraville. The Bing Crosby Christmas album is a natural for everybody and what do you know?—it contains White Christmas, as well as Silent Night and Jingle Bells and others.

The photographs of MORLEY BAER on Sixth near Dolores which catch in clear and poignant detail the sweep of hills and the curl of surf and the crisscross patterns of Carmel Valley farms make fine Christmas presents. They'll be treasured by anyone who has ever known Carmel and they'll keep before your eyes forever the grace and beauty in rocks and trees and sea. Besides the landscapes in his Sixth Street Gallery we saw MORLEY BAER'S books of photographs, containing informal outdoor pictures of families of children. This is the nicest way we've seen for keeping your children's pictures. As MORLEY BAER photographs them, the children look very lively and completely unself-conscious.

Just try to take a child past the window of THE CORNER CUPBOARD on Ocean at Dolores if you want to know how lovely are the things Tilly Polak has sent THE CORNER CUPBOARD from Sweden. There's a creche with a demure Mary beneath her golden halo and richly robed Magi and a great star of radiant straw. The tiny sheep of wheat straw stand near by and there are attendant angels in glowing colors. The little carved and painted figures of roosters and fauns and horses are bright as paint and the Swedish cards are lively with much activity in kitchen and dining room. There's a wide assortment of Swedish things from candelabra to place cards and every piece is gay and bright and beautiful.

THE CASA MUNRAS HOTEL in Monterey has installed an elegant new sea-food bar complete with rampant sea horses, King Neptune and beds of ice on which sea-fresh lobsters and shrimp and crab can take their ease. For those of you in the habit of having shrimp with your beer—or even without your beer—THE CASA MUNRAS offers shrimp and crab cocktail supreme. Drop in at tea time, or for luncheon or supper or any other time the bar is open, for an iced bowl of sea-food with lemon and hot sauce.

2 ACRES of ground, beautifully landscaped and improved, with thought and care and—at the time — no consideration of the cost. All done by day labor and craftsmen's hands. Selected materials, real substantial and touchable values. A very good, attractive 5 room house with all improvements is included. This is a truly unusual offering for the seeker of a really fine home-site and would be of interest to a builder of fine homes for an exclusive small subdivision. Excellent location 8 blocks from center of Carmel. The price? Much less than what was spent on the improvements alone, not considering the value of the ground. For appointment to inspect please call

Students' Concert For All Saints' Christmas Party

The Women's Auxiliary of All Saints' Episcopal Church are giving a Christmas party on Wednesday, December 11, at the Parish House, Monte Verde just south of Ocean Avenue, to welcome their new rector, the Reverend Alfred B. Seccombe and his wife, who will be guests of honor.

Mr. John Farr, head of the department of music at the high school, has consented to bring members of the high school choir and orchestra, as well as some of Miss G. Stanbridge's pupils from the Sunset School, to give a concert of Christmas music at 2:30.

JOHN SEBASTIAN

John Sebastian, harmonica virtuoso, who has transformed a children's plaything into a concert instrument of classic sensitivity will be heard in concert at 8:15 Saturday evening, December 7, at the Pacific Grove High School Auditorium.

Sebastian has played in concert with the Philadelphia Orchestra under Eugene Ormandy, the NBC Symphony and other orchestras all over the country.

Albert Malver will accompany Sebastian at the piano, and admission is by membership card only.

Expect Business Pickup In January

After the first of the year, Jackson believes there will be a pick up in building and a real estate turn over and an improvement in business in general, "if the government will leave us alone."

He was visiting his mother, Mrs. Jane Moreland in Huntington, Virginia, when the coal strike was called. He talked with some of the coal operators. Though he says he is not in a position to name them or quote them, he gathered the impression they were determined to "sit tight and fight it out here, once and for all."

It was this information that brought him home several weeks earlier than he had planned. "I wanted to get here before the trains stopped running."

Much Ado About Omnibus Zones At Council Meeting

church property be extended from January 2, its present date, to February 27, when they actually intend to move in, as otherwise the church would have to start paying the city rent on January 2.

A resolution to decorate and light the annual Carmel Christmas tree was passed, and the reading of the remainder of the draft amendment of the zoning law completed. City Attorney Hudson suggested the council refer the zoning law amendment to itself as a committee of the whole and decide before next meeting on their instructions for preparation of the amending ordinance. The council decided to call an executive meeting for this purpose about December 18.

The meeting was called to order by Councilman Charles Childers in the absence of Mayor Fred Godwin who was out of town.

Lenore Oakleigh Revitalizes Tragic Queen

A proud, pathetic figure out of history was brought to life in Miss Lenore Oakleigh's impersonation of Catharine of Aragon before the Carmel Woman's Club last Monday afternoon.

The role gives wide scope to Miss Oakleigh's versatility and her skill as a monodramatist was revealed in the transition from a kind and gentle queen, beloved by all, to a wife humbly pleading with her husband of more than twenty years, the regal daughter of Ferdinand and Isabella exposing Wolsey's duplicity with ringing tones and blazing eyes, and a weary, forsaken woman, old and dying at fifty-one.

Mrs. J. E. Abernathy carried out the tea decorations in the Holiday theme, a small, snowy white tree with red trimmings centering the tea table and Santa Claus candles on the refectory table, behind which hung a beautiful green wreath.

Pouring tea were Mrs. Abernathy and Mrs. John Hayes and chairman of the tea was Mrs. John Jordan.

WRITER OFF ON WORLD TOUR

John W. McDermott, free lance writer is leaving Carmel, where he has been living in The Woodbox, Pico and Cabrillo. Mr. McDermott leaves next week for Phoenix to see his father and from there goes to San Francisco, where he will sail, December 13, on the S. S. Marine Phoenix for Australia, the first leg of his trip around the world.
